

7 TOP TIPS YOU NEED TO KNOW
BEFORE YOU TRAVEL POST COVID PANDEMIC SO YOU CAN BE SAFE
WHILE ENJOYING YOUR TRIP

Hey, there fellow traveler,

Ola here, I'm so excited that you got your hands on this freebie.

I'm someone that has a busy life just like you and while I love to travel I don't like to waste time figuring out what the best thing is or even worse putting my health at risk

So I compiled this quick checklist with the top 7 tips to guide you on navigating your way in the world post covid pandemic.

Even with the vaccinations, we can't be too lax and we need to look after ourselves and everyone around us.

I'm very passionate about helping people travel more and do so in the most cost-effective and hassle-free way.

Super excited we crossed paths!

1 TRAVEL DESTINATION

Nowadays is a great opportunity to explore nature, the outdoors, and open spaces. Sure you can go on city breaks but try and avoid the very busy ones, book ahead of time if you're looking to visit museums and indoor spaces, and be realistic about the time you'd spend at each place (expect queues).

Just because you're a bit worried about going abroad doesn't mean you can't see the beauty of your home country. Go for a road trip, camping, hiking, or a beach holiday. Go and get that fresh air and breath happy on your holidays.

You might need just a bit more thought into where you would go. Theme parks and holiday parks are going to be busy, group holidays and experience holidays, are still operational but you might want to check the safety measures they have in place.

2 MASK ON!

Yes, we can debate the scientific evidence behind it till the cows come home but the reality is most places and transport if not all would require you to wear a mask. So just keep one in your pocket.

You can look up small businesses on Etsy or the like and support the people who need the income the most.

CHECK YOUR ALCOHOL

Not the drinking one, the sanitizing one, take something with at least 60% alcohol in it. The airports have plenty of sanitizing stations and so do restaurants and attractions, but it's always handy to have some.

I know what you're thinking, the 100ml rule, well carry wipes then and make sure they are effective ones.

p.s. check out our packing guide to see how you can get around the 100ml rule!

MIND THE GAP

Keep your distance and be wary of what you come in contact with, wash your hands regularly, or sanitize. Respect other peoples' space and give them time to walk up in a queue or disembark the flight etc.

CHECK THE GOVERNMENT GUIDANCE

The situation is pretty fluid and subject to change depending on the number of cases in different countries. I know how upsetting it can be when things don't go to plan but you need to remember it's for your and others' safety, so take it on the chin and bear with it.

Keep an eye out for government updates, you can sign up to get them on your phone or email as well.

BOOK WITH SOMEONE TRUSTWORTHY

When it all goes south, you want to know you've got someone on your side to handle that refund and whatever hassle there might be.

You've probably tried cold-faced websites and they might have worked for you but nothing beats a warm customized service from your personal travel agent that doesn't charge a penny over the holiday cost.

Yes, there's a shameless plug there but let's get booking those holidays because life is too short to be spent in one place!

TRAVEL INSURANCE

Get confirmation in writing from your insurance company that your health and safety needs are going to be covered under the policy that you have. You don't want to find out otherwise during your trip or when it gets canceled for whatever reason.

If you don't have travel insurance well, you're in luck! Because we handle that as well as part of our travel booking services, at no extra cost to you.
